For over 70 years, The Laminex Group has been the leading marketer, distributor and manufacturer of fashionable surface solutions and raw wood panels. Market leading brands include Laminex®, Formica® and essa stone™.

Today more than ever, the kitchen is the centre of activity and entertainment for the family home. From a tendency towards 'safe' colours and designs, Australians are now growing in their confidence to experiment with colour and design through the use of paint, laminate, engineered stone and other materials.

The choice of materials and finishes greatly affects the way colours are perceived. In the kitchen, every surface needs to be durable and easy to maintain, particularly for benchtops and cabinet doors.
